How we make coverage decisions

Have you ever wondered how Horizon BCBSNJ makes coverage decisions?

We want you to know that Horizon BCBSNJ:

- Makes utilization management (UM) decisions based on the medical necessity and appropriateness of care and service within the guidelines of your benefit coverage.
- Does not offer our employees, or delegates performing medical management reviews, incentives to encourage denials of coverage or service, and does not provide financial incentives to doctors to withhold covered health care services that are medically necessary and appropriate.
- Emphasizes access to the delivery of medically necessary and cost-effective health care services for members.
- Encourages the reporting, investigation and elimination of underutilization or overutilization, both of which can result in costly and improper uses of services, and are not helpful to you.
  - Underutilization is when you aren’t getting enough care or services to properly meet your needs.
  - Overutilization is when you undergo treatments, tests and studies that you don’t need.

Are you up to date on your cancer screenings?

Talk to your doctor today about scheduling these important cancer screenings. Your doctor will help you determine how frequently you need to receive them.

Mammogram

While most women should begin annual mammograms at age 45 years, you should start talking to your doctor at age 40 years about when you should begin screening. According to the American Cancer Society (ACS), women age 55 years and older can switch to a mammogram every other year, or they can choose to continue yearly mammograms. Continue to talk to your doctor about how often you should be screened. Regular mammograms should continue for as long as a woman is in good health.

Pap test

A regular Pap test as part of a cervical exam is the most important screening in finding and treating cervical cell changes before they progress to cervical cancer.

Women between the ages of 21 and 29 years should have a Pap test every three years.

For women ages 30 to 65 years, the preferred testing method is the HPV co-test (cytology and the HPV test are administered together) every five years. Women older than age 65 years can stop screening if there is an adequate screening history. If you have certain risk factors, you should continue to be screened for cervical cancer as recommended by your doctor.

Colon cancer screening

Colorectal cancer is the second leading cancer in the U.S. Regular screenings at age 50 years is the key to preventing colorectal cancer. Screenings can also find colorectal cancer early, when treatment is most effective. You may need to be tested earlier if you have certain risk factors that put you at an increased risk for developing colorectal cancer.

Prostate screening

The ACS recommends that you should talk with your doctor about the uncertainties, risks and potential benefits of prostate cancer screening before being tested.

If you are age 50 years, you should begin talking to your doctor about prostate cancer testing. If you are African American and/or have a family history of the disease, you should have this talk with your doctor starting at age 40 to 45 years.

Get healthy!

You can help lower your chances of cancer by getting the recommended cancer screenings and taking care of your health. Make healthy choices, every day!

- Maintain a healthy weight
- Stop smoking
- Stay active
- Eat right

Keeping your adult children on your plan

This New Jersey mandate applies to qualifying dependents between the ages of 26 and 31 years.

Did you know that New Jersey law allows you to keep your children on your plan until they turn 31 years old? This differs from the provision in the Affordable Care Act that requires health plans to extend coverage for dependents to age 26 years. Under New Jersey law, qualifying dependents between the ages of 26 and 31 years pay a small premium to continue receiving dependent coverage.

The mandate defines a qualified dependent as the child of an insured subscriber, by blood or by law, who:

✦ Is 30 years of age or younger;
✦ Is unmarried and not in a civil union or a domestic partnership;
✦ Has no dependents;
✦ Is either a New Jersey resident, or, if a nonresident, is enrolled as a full-time student at an accredited school;
✦ Is not the insured person under a group or individual health benefits plan or church plan, or entitled to benefits under Medicare at the time health plan continuation coverage begins; and
✦ Can provide evidence of prior creditable coverage or receipt of benefits under another group or individual health benefits plan. (This is usually a written certificate issued by an insurer that shows the dates a prior health plan began and ended.)

1 This mandate does not apply to all plans. For additional eligibility and enrollment information, please contact your group administrator or call Member Services at 1-800-355-BLUE (2583).
Tackling opioid abuse

With an estimated 2.1 million people in the U.S. suffering from substance use disorders related to prescription opioids, Horizon BCBSNJ is committed to preventing opioid misuse and addiction. In New Jersey alone, high rates of addiction have claimed an estimated 5,000 lives in the past decade. Specifically, Fentanyl, an opioid up to 50 times more powerful than heroin, is killing New Jersey residents at a rate that is tripling yearly.

Horizon BCBSNJ has several programs and initiatives to help ensure our members receive the right care at the right time without relying on opioids.

Support through pharmacy and other programs
Horizon BCBSNJ provides resources and information to doctors to assist in safe medicine use and improving the quality of care you receive. This information can also help prevent abuse, addiction and fraud. Additionally, several initiatives from our Horizon Pharmacy program integrate pharmacy and medical claims to help members and prescribers take action and make informed decisions. Also, prolonged use of pain medication is tracked through Horizon BCBSNJ’s Episodes of Care programs.

Integrated services to help you
Through the Horizon Behavioral Health program, we integrate medical, behavioral health and substance use disorder services. This integration helps ensure treatment of underlying issues and keeps you healthy.

Support through community engagement

♦ New Jersey Project Medicine Drop
Horizon BCBSNJ helps educate members and the public on how to correctly dispose of medicines.

♦ Partnership for a Drug-Free New Jersey
The Horizon Foundation for New Jersey supports the Partnership for a Drug-Free New Jersey, a substance misuse and abuse prevention public health campaign that provides free prevention programs and initiatives to New Jersey schools and communities, as well as parent education training and drug-free workplace assistance.

♦ Fifth Grade Parent Alert
The Horizon Foundation supports the Fifth Grade Parent Alert, a brochure provided to all fifth-grade classes in New Jersey that encourages parents and guardians to discuss the dangers of substance abuse with their children.

On February 15, 2017, New Jersey Governor Chris Christie signed legislation aimed to curb the state’s opioid addiction epidemic. Horizon BCBSNJ is in the process of implementing legislative requirements into our current programs.

Talk to your doctor
Although many feel that drug addiction could not affect them or their families personally, as many as one in six teenagers reported taking prescription drugs to get high or change their mood. When either you or your child are prescribed pain killers, talk to the doctor about the amount that is necessary to manage the pain.

Hear from the experts on opioid abuse
The Horizon Foundation for New Jersey, the philanthropic arm of Horizon BCBSNJ, is proud to sponsor the Partnership for a Drug-Free New Jersey (PDFNJ) Knock Out Opioid Abuse Town Hall Series. These meetings, to be held throughout the state through November 2018, will help shed light on opioid abuse, and prevention and awareness. They are based on the Surgeon General’s recommendation to galvanize the public, policymakers and communities to raise awareness, educate, reduce stigma and change attitudes on addiction and to ultimately reduce and prevent opioid abuse.

The Town Hall meetings will feature speakers from PDFNJ and The Horizon Foundation, panels of guest speakers to include local prosecutors and legislators, and prevention specialists among others. To learn more about the Knock Out Opioid Abuse Town Hall Series, and to see when a town hall will be held near you, please visit knockoutopioidabuse.drugfreenj.org.
You may need a vaccine if...

There are many circumstances in which you may need an update to your vaccinations

For instance, you may need a vaccine if ...

You travel: International travelers are at risk for diseases such as yellow fever, malaria and even polio. You can find out which vaccines are recommended for your specific destination by checking with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention at cdc.gov. You should see your doctor at least two months before your trip.

Whether or not you need a given vaccine can generally depend on a variety of factors, including:

- If you’re traveling to an urban or rural area
- Length and season of your visit
- Lodging conditions (air conditioning, open-air tents, or screened-in house or room)
- Mode of travel and planned activities
- Common foods served in the area

For example, a business traveler who will be in urban areas for a couple of days may need different vaccinations than a traveler to the same country who plans to hike for a few weeks in the rainforest. Discuss your travel plans with your doctor so he or she can recommend the best vaccine for your situation.

You are injured: If you step on a rusty nail or are bitten by a wild animal, you may need a tetanus or rabies shot to prevent further complications, depending on the date of your last vaccine. Consult your doctor immediately if your injury presents risks for infection, so he or she can advise you about any appropriate vaccines.

You anticipate a pregnancy or are pregnant: If you are planning on becoming pregnant, you should be up to date on routine adult vaccines, particularly the measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) vaccine; this will help protect both you and your unborn child. If you need an MMR vaccine, your doctor may advise you to wait a month after receiving it before becoming pregnant.

The inactivated flu vaccine is recommended for pregnant women since contracting the flu during pregnancy can cause serious complications. In addition, the adult tetanus, diphtheria and acellular pertussis vaccine (Tdap) is usually given between 27 and 36 weeks of each pregnancy a woman has.

You have a chronic condition: People with chronic health conditions can be more susceptible to illnesses like the flu or pneumonia. If you have, for example, asthma or a heart condition, your doctor may strongly encourage you to receive certain annual vaccinations.

Voicing a concern

Any member who voices a concern, files a complaint or pursues an appeal will not be subject to disenrollment, discrimination or penalty by Horizon BCBSNJ.

If you are ever dissatisfied with the outcome of a claim or any aspect of your plan coverage — including the quality of care or service you have received — you, your doctor, another health care professional or authorized representative acting on your behalf (and with your consent) may file an inquiry, complaint or appeal with Horizon BCBSNJ. If you file an appeal, Horizon BCBSNJ will provide a timely, fair and full investigation and resolution of your appeal. For a complete description of our internal appeals process, please call Member Services at 1-800-355-BLUE (2583).

When deciding whether or not to file an appeal, please keep the following time frames in mind:

- Members in a self-insured plan are given at least six months to appeal a benefits-based adverse claim determination. Please confirm the time frame in your group’s Summary Plan Description.
- If the appeal is not submitted to Horizon BCBSNJ in a timely manner, the insurer/claim administrator may not accept the appeal request.

If you file an appeal and are dissatisfied with the resolution reached through our internal appeals process, you may call the New Jersey Department of Banking & Insurance at 1-888-393-1062.

You may also write to:

If you get a medical bill

When you use a participating doctor or other health care professional, he or she files claims for you. You should not get a bill for covered expenses, except if your plan has a copayment or other member cost sharing, such as a deductible or coinsurance.

If you do not use a participating doctor, other health care professional or hospital, you may get a medical bill. If you do, please send a completed Horizon BCBSNJ claim form and the bill to the address listed on the claim form. Is it the baby blues - or something more?

The emotional changes a woman can feel after giving birth are usually part of a condition commonly called the “baby blues,” but sometimes those feelings can be something more serious — postpartum depression.

The chart below from Horizon Behavioral Health summarizes the differences between the “baby blues,” feelings of sadness that ease after about two weeks without intervention, and postpartum depression, a serious medical condition that should be diagnosed by a doctor for possible treatment.

After a woman gives birth, her doctor should screen her for postpartum depression, but if at any time she or one of her loved ones feels her symptoms may be serious, she should contact her doctor immediately.

Risk factors for postpartum depression

Postpartum depression can affect any woman who is pregnant, has given birth, suffered a miscarriage or has recently weaned a child from breastfeeding. Other risk factors include:

- Having a prior history of depression
- Overwhelming demands
- Lack of support to help with the new baby
- Lack of sleep or becoming exhausted
- Not taking medications for depression before, during and/or after pregnancy

Getting help

- If you suspect you may have postpartum depression, talk about symptoms with your doctor or health care professional right away. Don’t wait for your postpartum follow-up appointment. Many treatment options are available, including counseling and medications.
- Talk with your spouse, partner, friends and family about how you are feeling.
- To locate a health care professional, visit Horizon BCBSNJ’s Online Doctor & Hospital Finder at HorizonBlue.com/doctorfinder or contact your mental health services provider at the number located on the back of your member ID card.

The federal government mandates certain health coverage for breast reconstructive surgery in any health insurance plan that provides medical and surgical benefits for mastectomies.

If your plan provides medical and surgical benefits for mastectomies, and you are receiving benefits in connection with a mastectomy and choose to have breast reconstruction along with that mastectomy, your plan must provide, in a manner determined in consultation between you and the attending doctor, coverage for the following:

- All stages of reconstruction of the breast on which the mastectomy was performed
- Surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance
- Treatment of physical complications of the mastectomy, including lymphedema
- Breast prostheses, which is an artificial form of a breast to help resemble its original form

These benefits are provided to the same extent as any other illness under your coverage, subject to your deductible, coinsurance and copayment. All other features and benefits of your health insurance plan remain the same, and are not impacted by this notification.

Please refer to your benefit booklet for more details on deductibles, copayments and coinsurance applicable to your health insurance plan.
