Page	Section
1	McKesson Code Pair Additions Code pair edits added to the McKesson KnowledgePack Update. Site-specific modifier override indicators for denied/paid code combination. Y = does override; N = does not override; N/A = does not apply to the code combination.
24	McKesson Code Pair Rationale Descriptions Rationale descriptions for the rationale codes included in the McKesson Code Pair Additions section.
31	McKesson Code Pair Expirations Code pair edits closed from the McKesson KnowledgePack Update.
42	CCI V23.3 Additions Edits added in new version of CCI. Provides brief CCI policy for each edit.
84	CCI V23.3 Expirations Edits that were closed in new version of CCI.
85	CCI V23.2 Changes Changes to modifier overrides (new override = 1 or no longer overrides = 0) for existing code pairs and changes to existing edits' effective and/or expiration date.
89	OCE CCI V23.3 Additions Edits added in new version of OCE/CCI.
125	OCE CCI V23.3 Expirations Edits that were closed in new version of OCE/CCI.
126	OCE CCI V23.3 Changes Changes to modifier overrides (new override = 1 or no longer overrides = 0) for existing code pairs and changes to existing edits' effective and/or expiration date.

Instructions

PLEASE REVIEW THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The information contained in this report is intended to expedite review of Horizon BCBSNJ 2016 3rd quarter edit changes. Edits in the workbook are sorted first by denied code then by paid code in ascending numeric order. A '#' sign immediately Edit source abbreviations are defined below.

CCI Edits: CCI code pair edits are code pairs that should not be reported together for a number of reasons explained in the "National Correct Coding Initiative Coding Policy Manual for Medicare Services". The CCI Additions tab contains new edits added by CCI (with policy statement). The CCI Expirations tab contains edits expired by CCI. The CCI Deletions tab contains edits deleted by CCI. The CCI Changes tab contains edits modified by CCI. Changes can include 1) Modifier Override (CCI "GB Indicator") modifications represented with a 'Modified' record and an 'Added' record, or 2) edit effective or expiration date modifications represented in one 'Modified' record. NOTE: An indicator of "1" = a modifier indicated by CCI can be used to allow payment for both codes. "0" = No modifier can be used to bypass the edit pair.

OCE/CCI Edits: CCI edits incorporated into Outpatient Code Editor (OCE). The OCE/CCI Additions tab contains new edits added by OCE/CCI (with policy statement). The OCE/CCI Expirations tab contains edits expired by OCE/CCI. The CCI Deletions tab contains edits deleted by OCE/CCI. The OCE/CCI Changes tab contains edits modified by OCE/CCI. Changes can include 1) Modifier Override (OCE/CCI "GB Indicator") modifications represented with a 'Modified' record and an 'Added' record, or 2) edit effective or expiration date modifications represented in one 'Modified' record. NOTE: An indicator of "1" = a modifier indicated by OCE/CCI can be used to allow payment for both codes. "0" = No modifier can be used to bypass the edit pair.

McKesson Code Pairs: This includes code pairs based on three of the rule types in the CXT UNBUN_PAIRS rule. These rule types are Incidental (INC), Mutually Exclusive (ME), and Parent/Child (ULT_PARENT) editing. An Edit Rationale number is provided with each McKesson Code Pair addition, which can be used to refer to the Edit Report Rationale worksheet where they are listed in numeric order. This Edit Rationale number is specific to this report only.

General Modifier Information: Modifiers -25, -57, and -59 are intended to indicate that a service/procedure that would normally be included in payment for another service/procedure should, for specific reasons, not be denied when submitted with one of these modifiers.

By default, modifier -25 will override any edit within the McKesson Code Pair Additions tab where the RULE_TYPE is ME or INC as well as any edit described in the McKesson Visits tab.

By default, modifier -57 will override any edit described in the McKesson Visits tab.

By default, modifier -59 will override any edit within the McKesson Code Pair Additions tab where the RULE_TYPE is ME, INC, or ULT_PARENT."

126121	A mutually exclusive relationship involves procedures that would not reasonably be performed during the same session. For example, combinations of procedures that differ in technique or approach but lead to the same outcome represent overlap of service and duplication of effort, and are considered mutually exclusive. This logic is supported by the CMS guideline for Mutually Exclusive Procedure found in the National Correct Coding Policy Manual for Part B Medicare Carriers, Chapter I that states: "There are numerous procedure codes that are not to be reported together because they are mutually exclusive of each other. Mutually exclusive codes are those codes that cannot reasonably be done in the same session." Edits exist between CPT and HCPCS Level II codes representing the same procedure or service. Reimbursement is typically recommended for the procedure code that has the more specific description. This logic is based on the CMS guideline which states '...when the narratives are not identical (e.g., the CPT code narrative is generic, whereas the HCPCS Level II code is specific) the Level II code should be used.'
127043	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. The AMA designates this denied procedure as a "separate procedure". The "separate procedure" designation indicates that a certain procedure or service may be: a) Considered an integral component of another procedure/service, b) Performed independently, c) Unrelated or d) Distinct from other procedure(s)/service(s) provided at that time. Procedure codes designated as "separate procedures" may not be additionally reported when the procedure/service is performed as an integral component of another procedure/service. However, procedure codes designated as "separate procedures" should be additionally reported when performed independently, unrelated or distinct from other procedure(s)/service(s) provided. If the physician performs a designated "separate procedure" in addition to another procedure which is unrelated to the "separate procedure", modifier -59 should be appended to the designated "separate procedure" to indicate that the procedure was unrelated and that a distinct service was provided. It should be noted that the Correct Coding Initiative (CCI) is in congruence that both procedures do not warrant reimbursement but recommends payment for the opposite procedure.
128682	A mutually exclusive relationship involves procedures that would not reasonably be performed during the same session. This logic is supported by the CMS guideline for Mutually Exclusive Procedure found in the National Correct Coding Policy Manual for Part B Medicare Carriers, Chapter I that states: "There are numerous procedure codes that are not to be reported together because they are mutually exclusive of each other. Mutually exclusive codes are those codes that cannot reasonably be done in the same session." Typically only one evaluation and management (E/M) procedure should be reported per date of service. When multiple E/M services are reported on the same date of service, only the most clinically intense E/M service will be recommended for reimbursement. This auditing logic is consistent with CMS guidelines from the Medicare Claims Processing Manual, Chapter 12, section 30.6.5 that states "If more than one evaluation and management (face-to-face) service is provided on the same day to the same patient by the same physician or more than one physician in the same specialty in the same group, only one evaluation and management service may be reported unless the evaluation and management services are for unrelated problems. Instead of billing separately, the physicians should select a level of service representative of the combined visits and submit the appropriate code for that level." According to CPT, a significant separately identifiable evaluation and management service, by the same physician on the same day of the procedure or other service may be reported by appending modifier -25.
129029	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. It should be noted that the Correct Coding Initiative (CCI) is in congruence with this edit. The Complete Global Service Data for Orthopaedic Surgery lists the denied procedure as an intraoperative service included in the global service package for the primary surgical procedure.
133560	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. Modifier -59 may be used to identify the performance of a distinct procedural service, unrelated to the primary procedure. An assumption of same anatomic site is made during the auditing process. It should be noted that the Correct Coding Initiative (CCI) is in congruence with this edit. Edits typically exist between multiple endoscopic procedures performed during the same operative session. The most comprehensive procedure is recommended for reimbursement and the clinically less intense procedure is denied. This logic is supported by the CMS guideline for Surgery: Digestive System found in the National Correct Coding Initiative Policy Manual for Medicare Services, Chapter VI that states, "If multiple endoscopic services are performed, the most comprehensive code describing the service(s) rendered should be reported." In addition, the guidelines state, "Only the more extensive endoscopic procedure may be reported for a patient encounter. For example if a sigmoidoscopy is completed and the physician also performs a colonoscopy during the same patient encounter, only the colonoscopy may be reported." In the clinical circumstance where clinical documentation and appropriate modifiers properly support distinct and separate clinical indications for each procedure, additional reimbursement may be warranted.

137458	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. An assumption of same anatomic site is made during the auditing process. Introductory guidelines for the Complete Global Service Data for Orthopaedic Surgery include the following under the heading, Neuroplasty: "The committee has standardized neuroplasty for all applicable global packages to state "neuroplasty for surgical exposure." CPT defines neuroplasty as simple exploration of nerves, blood vessels, or tendons exposed in an open wound. CPT considers this as part of the essential treatment of the wound. It is not a separate procedure unless appreciable dissection is required."
137487	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. An assumption of same anatomic site is made during the auditing process. When an exploratory procedure is submitted with a surgical procedure in the same anatomic site, only the surgery is recommended for reimbursement. This logic is supported by guidelines found in chapter 1 of the National Correct Coding Initiative Policy Manual for Medicare Services which states, "A physician should not unbundle services that are integral to a more comprehensive procedure." Additionally, "Exposure and exploration of the surgical field is integral to an operative procedure and is not separately reportable."
137508	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. An assumption of same anatomic site is made during the auditing process. CPT Assistant, May 2017, New Category III Codes, Phrenic Nerve Stimulation System, states, "Three new Category III codes (0440T, 0441T, and 0442T) were added to describe percutaneous cryoablation (ie, freezing of nerves to disrupt nerve conduction), coupled with imaging guidance. Cryoablation, coupled with imaging guidance, provides an alternative option to chemodenervation, nerve blocks, and pharmacological therapy. Imaging guidance (eg, computed tomography), which is used to identify the nerve(s) and provide guidance for percutaneous insertion of the cryoprobe, is bundled into codes 0440T-0442T and not separately reportable."
137509	A mutually exclusive relationship involves procedures that would not reasonably be performed during the same session. For example, combinations of procedures that, based on their CPT definition, are medically impossible or improbable to be performed together are considered mutually exclusive. This logic is supported by the CMS guideline for Mutually Exclusive Procedure found in the National Correct Coding Policy Manual for Part B Medicare Carriers, Chapter I that states "CPT codes that are mutually exclusive of one another based either on the CPT definition or the medical impossibility/improbability that the procedures could be performed at the same session can be identified as code pairs. These codes are not necessarily linked to one another with one code narrative describing a more comprehensive procedure compared to the component code, but can be identified as code pairs that should not be reported together". It should be noted that the Correct Coding Initiative (CCI) is in congruence with this edit. The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG) Coding Manual indicates that procedure code "57120 cannot be reported with 57260 under any circumstances".
137510	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. An assumption of same anatomic site is made during the auditing process. It should be noted that the Correct Coding Initiative (CCI) is in congruence with this edit. Chapter IV of the National Correct Coding Initiative Policy Manual for Medicare Services states, "CPT codes 23470 (arthroplasty, glenohumeral joint; hemiarthroplasty) and 23472 (arthroplasty, glenohumeral joint; total shoulder (glenoid and proximal humeral replacement (eg, total shoulder))) include removal of native joint or a failed prosthesis and replacement with a new prosthesis. CPT codes 23333 (removal of foreign body, shoulder; deep (subfascial or intramuscular)), 23334 (removal of prosthesis, includes debridement and synovectomy when performed; humeral or glenoid component), or 23335 (removal of prosthesis, includes debridement and synovectomy when performed; humeral and glenoid components (eg, total shoulder)) should not be reported separately with CPT codes 23470 or 23472 for removal of a prior failed prosthetic joint."

Accordingly, codes describing exploratory procedures...cannot be separately reported". Chapter 8 of the National Correct Coding Initiative Policy Manual for Part B Medicare Carriers states: "If two procedures are performed at the same anatomic site and same patient encounter, one procedure may be bundled into the other (e.g., one procedure may be integral to the other). However, if the two procedures are performed at separate anatomic sites or at separate patient encounters, they may be separately reportable. Modifier 59 may be reported to indicate that the two procedures are distinct and separately reportable services under these circumstances."

For example, if a laboratory performs a urinary pH, specific gravity, creatinine, nitrates, oxidants, or other tests to confirm that a urine specimen is not adulterated, this testing is not separately billed. The Internet-only Manual, Publication 100-04, Medicare Claims Processing Manual, Chapter 16 (Laboratory Services), Section 10 (Background) indicates that a laboratory test is a covered benefit only if the test result is utilized for management of the beneficiary's specific medical problem. Testing to confirm that a urine specimen is unadulterated is an internal control process that is not separately reportable." In addition, CPT 2017 guidelines under Presumptive Drug Class Screening state, "Each code also includes all sample validation procedures performed. Examples of sample validation procedures may include, but are not limited to, pH, specific gravity and nitrite."

In some instances, the combination of procedures may be anatomically impossible. Procedures that represent overlapping services are considered mutually exclusive. In addition, reporting an initial service and subsequent service is considered mutually exclusive. As indicated above, 80184 represents monitoring the clinical response to phenobarbital whereas 80345 is performed to identify non-therapeutic use of barbiturates.
137518	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. Modifier -59 may be used to identify the performance of a distinct procedural service, unrelated to the primary procedure. CMS guidelines for Drug Testing found in the National Correct Coding Initiative Policy Manual for Medicare Services, Chapter X state, "Providers performing validity testing on urine specimens utilized for drug testing should not separately bill the validity testing. For example, if a laboratory performs a urinary pH, specific gravity, creatinine, nitrates, oxidants, or other tests to confirm that a urine specimen is not adulterated, this testing is not separately billed. The Internet-only Manual, Publication 100-04, Medicare Claims Processing Manual, Chapter 16 (Laboratory Services), Section 10 (Background) indicates that a laboratory test is a covered benefit only if the test result is utilized for management of the beneficiary's specific medical problem. Testing to confirm that a urine specimen is unadulterated is an internal control process that is not separately reportable." In addition, new CPT 2017 guidelines under Presumptive Drug Class Screening state, "Each code also includes all sample validation procedures performed. Examples of sample validation procedures may include, but are not limited to, pH, specific gravity and nitrite."
137519	A mutually exclusive relationship involves procedures that would not reasonably be performed during the same session. For example, combinations of procedures that differ in technique or approach but lead to the same outcome represent overlap of service and duplication of effort, and are considered mutually exclusive. This logic is supported by the CMS guideline for Mutually Exclusive Procedure found in the National Correct Coding Policy Manual for Part B Medicare Carriers, Chapter I that states: "There are numerous procedure codes that are not to be reported together because they are mutually exclusive of each other. Mutually exclusive codes are those codes that cannot reasonably be done in the same session." Edits exist between CPT and HCPCS Level II codes representing the same procedure or service. Reimbursement is typically recommended for the procedure code that has the more specific description. This logic is based on the CMS guideline which states '...when the narratives are not identical (e.g., the CPT code narrative is generic, whereas the HCPCS Level II code is specific) the Level II code should be used.' CPT codes used for drug testing (80305-80377) are grouped into drug classes and further broken down into therapeutic assays, presumptive testing, and definitive testing. Medicare is not prepared to accept and process the codes based on drug classes, and has instead divided the procedures into presumptive and definitive categories only. Presumptive testing should be reported with the appropriate CPT code (80305-80307). Definitive testing may be reported once per day with one of the five definitive codes (G0480-G0483, G0659).

In some instances, the combination of procedures may be anatomically impossible. Procedures that represent overlapping services are considered mutually exclusive. In addition, reporting an initial service and subsequent service is considered mutually exclusive. When a unilateral procedure is submitted with a bilateral procedure at the same anatomic site, only the bilateral procedure is recommended for reimbursement. This logic is supported by the CMS guideline for HCPCS/CPT Procedure Code Definition found in the National Correct Coding Policy Manual for Part B Medicare Carriers, Chapter I that states, "The unilateral procedure is included in the bilateral procedure". It is not appropriate to report two or more procedures to describe a service when a single, comprehensive procedure exists that more accurately describes the complete service performed by a provider. Based on the descriptions provided above, it would be inappropriate to report a monaural hearing aid code with a BiCROS hearing aid code.

McKesson Rationale Descriptions

Rationale Code	McKesson Rationale Description
137522	Mutually exclusive edits consist of combinations of procedures that differ in technique or approach but lead to the same outcome. In some instances, the combination of procedures may be anatomically impossible. Procedures that represent overlapping services are considered mutually exclusive. In addition, reporting an initial service and subsequent service is considered mutually exclusive. An assumption of same anatomic site is made during the auditing process. The objective of these procedures is to remove material that is causing pressure on the spinal cord or the nerve roots. When performed at the same site, the reporting of both procedures represents overlapping of services because they represent the same procedure, simply performed by different approaches. The physician's choice of approach may be made based on the primary pathology, but the end result remains decompression of the neural elements. Thus, the reporting of both decompression procedures provides overlapping of services and duplication of efforts that does not warrant separate reimbursement.
137523	Certain procedures are commonly performed in conjunction with other procedures as a component of the overall service provided. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. According to CMS Medicare Claims Processing Manual Chapter 13, Section 70.2, "Services Bundled into Treatment Management Codes", tattooing by intradermal introduction of insoluble opaque pigments to correct color defects of skin is not separately payable. The CMS Medicare Claims Processing Manual specifically indicates that tattooing procedures 11920, 11921 and 11922 are bundled into the payment for radiation treatment management services.
137524	Mutually exclusive edits consist of combinations of procedures that differ in technique or approach but lead to the same outcome. An incidental procedure is one that is performed at the same time as a more complex primary procedure and is clinically integral to the successful outcome of the primary procedure. According to CMS Medicare Claims Processing Manual Chapter 8, Section 140, "Monthly Capitation Payment Method for Physicians' Services Furnished to Patients on Maintenance Dialysis", interpretation of noninvasive vascular diagnostic studies of hemodialysis access is included in the monthly capitation payment for ESRD services provided to a Medicare end stage renal disease (ESRD) beneficiary. "The following physician services are included in the MCP. Noninvasive vascular diagnostic studies of hemodialysis access (CPT codes 93925, 93926, 93930, 93931, and 93990)"

Mutually exclusive codes are those codes that cannot reasonably be done in the same session." In a mutually exclusive relationship, the procedure with the higher RVU is typically recommended for reimbursement. Because RVUs provide a general measure of relative clinical intensity, the clinically more comprehensive procedures are typically assigned the higher values. When a mutually exclusive edit exists between a procedure with an assigned RVU and a procedure without an assigned RVU, reimbursement for the procedure with the assigned RVU is recommended. The reporting of a single physician evaluation, and repeated physician evaluations, for non-hemodialysis and hemodialysis services for the same date of service represents significant overlap of service and duplication of effort.
