Stage 1 Notice of Intent to Appeal:	Stage 1 Decision:

Dear :

Health care services you received were determined by your carrier not to be medically necessary. We disagreed with the carrier’s determination, and filed a Stage 1 appeal. We appealed on your behalf based on the signed Consent to Representation in Appeals of Utilization Management Determinations and Authorization of Release of Medical Records in UM Appeals and Arbitration of Claims (Consent and Authorization) you gave us. The carrier has now issued a determination on the Stage 1 appeal. We continue to disagree with the carrier’s determination, and intend to file another appeal. THIS IS NOTICE OF AN INTENT TO FILE A STAGE 2 APPEAL.

There are three stages to the appeal process. In Stage 1, the carrier had a health care provider review your case again. The health care provider was not the same health care provider who originally denied the services. At Stage 2, the carrier will have a panel review your case, including at least one health care provider familiar with the services for your condition.

If we still disagree with the carrier’s determination after the end of the Stage 2 appeal, we may file an appeal with the New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance’s Independent Health Care Appeals Program (IHCAP). The IHCAP contracts with Independent Utilization Review Organizations (IUROs). The Consent and Authorization allows us to ask for a review by an IURO, and to share your personal health information with employees at the New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance, the IURO, and with the IURO’s health care providers as necessary for the appeal to be processed and reviewed. However, your information will be treated confidentially in all instances.

You may revoke or cancel your Consent and Authorization at any time by completing the back page of the copy of the Consent and Authorization which we gave to you for your records. Or, you may write your own note simply saying that you revoke your prior Consent and Authorization (include the date you signed the Consent and Authorization). In both instances, return any notice of revocation to the carrier indicated above. In addition, we would appreciate a copy of the revocation. Even if you do not revoke your Consent and Authorization, it will expire two years after the date you signed it.
